Instant Guitar for Hopelessly Busy People

If you have always wanted to learn how to play the guitar, but were never able to find the time for lessons, you will want to mark down October 5th, 6:30-9:00pm, on your calendar. That's when Gloucester Parks, Recreation & Tourism has arranged for Jeff Rybak to teach his popular Instant Guitar for Hopelessly Busy People.

This ONE-TIME, 2½ hour class will teach you to play chords on the guitar so you can start playing your favorite songs right away. If you have wanted to learn the guitar but the time and money involved in private lessons has kept you away, Jeff Rybak's class is for you. The easy to understand instruction book and DVD used in class enable you to keep practicing at home.

In class he also discusses some of the common mistakes people make and the hurdles that prevent them from learning the guitar. "If I can help students avoid these hurdles then they are much more likely to succeed," says Jeff Rybak.

You don't need to know anything about music or the guitar to attend the class. Instant Guitar for Hopelessly Busy People is designed for the absolute beginner and the emphasis is on fun, not technical perfection. For more information, call Gloucester Parks, Recreation & Tourism at 693-2355. Be sure to bring your acoustic guitar.
